

SCEUS Young Scholars Workshop on The State of the EU 15 years after the Lisbon Treaty Salzburg, 15-16 May 2025

Call for Applications

Location: Edmundsburg, Mönchsberg 2, 5020 Salzburg

The Salzburg Center of European Union Studies (SCEUS) organizes a two-day young scholars' workshop on Thursday, 15 May 2025, and Friday, 16 May 2025, to offer PhD candidates and postdoctoral researchers —who have obtained their PhDs after 1 November 2020— in law, economics, or political science an opportunity to present papers related to European Union Studies. The theme of the workshop is “The State of the EU 15 years after the Lisbon Treaty”. Contributions on the Economic Monetary Union and EU budget, migration and social rights, rule of law and enlargement are especially encouraged.

Experts and experienced scholars will be invited to comment on the papers. This workshop aims to provide an interdisciplinary forum where young scholars present their research outcomes and debate their ideas on the past, present, and future of the EU following the first Young Scholars' Workshop organized in 2024.

Process and Deadlines

We welcome paper proposals from young scholars who pursue research in law, economics, or political science with a focus on European Union Studies. An abstract (300 words maximum) together with a short CV should be sent to sceus-youngscholars@plus.ac.at before 31 December 2024. Decisions on the abstracts will be communicated towards the end of January 2025. Selected participants are required to circulate the papers they will present by the end of April 2025. No common publication is envisaged. Limited funding is available to contribute to cover travel and accommodation costs.

About SCEUS

The Salzburg Centre of European Union Studies (SCEUS) is dedicated to advancing research and educating a new generation of academics. Designated a Jean Monnet Centre of Excellence in 2008 and recognized again as such in 2023 under the name EUCHALLENGES, SCEUS focuses its research on the institutional setup and economic governance of the European Union, as well as on broader social aspects of European integration and the role of the European Union as a global actor. Upcoming events under the EUCHALLENGES initiative include two engaging summer schools in July 2025. One on the Banking Union, covering bank resolution, crisis management and deposit guarantee schemes, and the other on Migration, addressing key issues and policies shaping global mobility.
